TRACKING NO. 0138-20

RELATING TO THE RESOURCES AND DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE AND THE NAABIK’IYÁTI’ COMMITTEE; ADOPTING A NAVAJO NATION POSITION SUPPORTING CONTINUED DIALOGUE AND PARTNERSHIP WITH THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES TO FACILITATE THE DEVELOPMENT OF CLEAN ENERGY PROJECTS ON THE NAVAJO NATION AND SUPPORTING EFFORTS FOR THE NAVAJO NATION’S RIGHTS TO USE 500 MWs OF CAPACITY ON THE NAVAJO GENERATING STATION SOUTHERN AND WESTERN TRANSMISSION SYSTEMS

WHEREAS:

A. The Navajo Nation Council, the governing body of the Navajo Nation, established the Resources and Development Committee to oversee the regulation of activities on Navajo Nation lands for disposition or acquisition of resources. 2 N.N.C. §102(A); 2 N.N.C. § 506 (C) (2).

B. The Navajo Nation Council established the Naabik’iyáti’ Committee as a Navajo Nation Council standing committee. 2 N.N.C. § 700 (A).

C. The Naabik’iyáti’ Committee has the power to coordinate all federal, county and state programs with other standing committees and branches of the Navajo Nation.
government to provide the most efficient delivery of services to the Navajo Nation. 2 N.N.C. § 701 (A) (4).

D. The Naabik’iyáti’ Committee further has to power to review and continually monitor the programs and activities of federal and state departments and to assist development of such programs designed to serve the Navajo People and Navajo Nation through intergovernmental relationships between the Navajo Nation and such entities. 2 N.N.C. § 701 (A) (7).

E. The Navajo Nation and the City of Los Angeles collaborated for more than 40 years on energy matters, through the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power’s ownership stake in Navajo Generating Station, and the benefits the city derived from electricity generated by the plant.

F. In April 2019, the City of Los Angeles adopted an ambitious energy and climate policy that establishes a goal of 100% carbon-free energy across all of the city’s energy sectors –electricity, buildings and transportation – by 2050, with benchmarks of 55% renewable electricity by 2025; 80% by 2036; and 100% by 2045. Los Angeles’ Green New Deal (2019).

G. In February 2020, the Los Angeles City Council has passed a resolution to “consider entering into a new partnership with the Navajo Nation to implement solar/clean energy projects on tribal land,” which the city says will allow it to “obtain cost-effective clean energy while ensuring environmental justice and economic equity to members of the Navajo Nation.”

H. The Navajo Nation has lost more than $40 million in revenue from the closure of Navajo Generating Station and Kayenta Mine; and the closures have also caused significant economic hardship for workers and communities on the Navajo Nation.

I. The Navajo Nation Council, in accordance with its fiduciary responsibilities to the Navajo Nation and its oversight authority for the Navajo Nation budget, is seeking ways to ameliorate the economic impact of the financial losses resulting from the closure of Navajo Generating Station and Kayenta Mine.

J. The past and present owners of Navajo Generating Station, having decided to close down the plant, giving the Navajo Nation little time to plan, have a responsibility to assist the tribe in making the economic transition to a post-coal economy; and to date, none of the past or present owners have yet committed any direct financial resources toward that transition or yet made any binding commitments to partnering with the Navajo Nation on clean energy projects.

K. In April 2019, Navajo President Jonathan Nez and Vice President Myron Lizer issued the Navajo Háyoolkáál (Sunrise) Proclamation, which states that the Navajo Nation will prioritize renewable energy development for the long-term benefit of the Navajo people.

L. The Cameron Chapter recently acted by resolution to withdraw land specifically for the purpose of developing utility-scale solar projects on the land; and other chapters in the Navajo Nation are also pursuing clean energy development.

M. The Navajo Tribal Utility Authority, which provides electricity to Navajo homes and businesses, has established a strong track record of developing and operating solar projects, having completed two 27-megawatt solar projects at Kayenta, Arizona.

N. On December 11, 2019, Los Angeles City Council member Mitch O’Farrell and Council President Nury Martinez introduced a motion to direct the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power to explore a partnership with the Navajo Nation to develop clean energy projects that are good for the ratepayers of the City of Los Angeles, while ensuring environmental justice and economic equity to members of the Navajo Nation.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

A. The Navajo Nation Council’s Naabik’iyáti’ Committee hereby supports continued dialogue with the City of Los Angeles, its City Council Delegates, and representatives of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power to determine the feasibility of partnerships with the Navajo Nation on developing clean energy projects on Navajo land; as long as any such projects include components of tribal ownership.
B. The Navajo Nation Council's Naabik'íyáti' Committee hereby authorizes a group of Navajo Nation Council Delegates to lead discussions and/or negotiations with officials from the City of Los Angeles.

C. The Navajo Nation Council's Naabik'íyáti' Committee hereby authorizes the group of designated Navajo Nation Delegates to host a formal visit of city officials to the Navajo Nation with the purpose of identifying potential projects for Navajo Nation and the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power to partner on.

D. The Navajo Nation Council's Naabik'íyáti' Committee hereby directs the Executive Director of the Navajo Office of Legislative Services to transmit copies of this resolution to Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti, Los Angeles City Council, and the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power Board of Commissioners.
