Office of the Speaker

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Fall 2019 Council Session to Stream Online via Vimeo, Youtube, Facebook

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. – Oct. 17, 2019 – The Office of the Speaker communications team along with the Navajo Nation Office of Broadcast Services will be providing live-streaming coverage of the 2019 Navajo Nation Council Fall Session next week starting October 21, 2019. The Fall Session will be streamed online on the Vimeo, Youtube, and Facebook platforms.

The online live streams will be accessible at the following URLs starting at approximately 9:30 AM on October 21 and each day of the Fall Session:

- Vimeo: <https://vimeo.com/NavajoNationCouncil>
- Youtube: <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCodrGK0FB5QciEIFjLn6G1g>
- Facebook: <https://facebook.com/NavajoNationCouncil>

The online video streaming provider Vimeo will replace the previous Ustream service. The switch was made after an evaluation of the former streaming service for cost and features.

Vimeo will allow the Navajo Nation Office of the Speaker an annual savings of approximately 85% over its former video streaming service. Additionally, the switch will allow the Office of the Speaker to offer live streaming to the Navajo Nation Council's Youtube and Facebook profiles.

The communications team will continue the upgrade project with the installation of new camera and networking systems in the weeks following the Fall Session as part of an overall effort to deliver streaming service for more Council and committee meetings.
