“We are marching to share our support for our Diné families and bring awareness to the growing cases of missing relatives across the Navajo Nation. The process of healing for our relatives is important so that our survivors have access to support groups, onsite counseling, traditional healers, and to victim advocates. Where are our Native men? We need to go back and teach our young men about the sweat lodge ceremonies and the sacredness of our female warriors. Our male coming of age ceremonies are as important as our traditional Kinaaldá female ceremonies. We are all the warriors behind our Indigenous movements and together, we will move forward with Hozhó. Let us find healing through hope,” said Council Delegate Nathaniel Brown (Dennehotso, Kayenta, Chííłchinbii’tó).

Members of the media are encouraged to attend and a video livestream will be provided through the Facebook page for the Navajo Nation Council: <https://www.facebook.com/navajonationcouncil>. An official escort will be provided by Navajo law enforcement, face masks are required, and dress warmly.

The Navajo Nation Council supports the establishment of the Missing and Murdered Diné Relatives (MMDR) task force that is developing a framework for a proposed MMDR data institute and the development of a missing persons community action toolkit to empower communities. Council Delegate Nathaniel Brown was recently appointed by the governor to serve on the Arizona Human Trafficking Council.
